

MARY's secret ingredients boxes are on their way!

It's been a week of preparing and packing the actual boxes. Our team at the office, headed by our amazing Lily, did an awesome job! The boxes have all been lovingly filled with amazing products that I know will inspire your cooking. All of our spring MARY's secret ingredients (MSI) boxes are on their way. I'm guessing that those of you who ordered them will have them in your hands early this week and I can't wait to hear what you think.

Our spring boxes are completely sold out. But don't worry, you can still order the other seasonal boxes right now but really, don't wait, as we've already sold quite a few of those as well, as many people purchased all of the seasons.

The ingredients in this season's box are from all over the world, and of course, fit our profile of all natural, healthy, gourmet eating. I have been busy working on recipes and serving suggestions using all of them, which will appear here in the coming week.

More importantly, we want to thank everyone - our partners and our customers who have made a commitment with us to eradicate world hunger as we are Soon the suspense will be over and you'll be spicing up your cooking with new flavors and new ingredients! Spread the word and remember, to always cook with LOVE.
